October 2018

One hundred years ago, one of the most destructive conflicts in human history finally came to an end. For perhaps the first time, the true horrors of war were not confined to the battlefield but became part of the national consciousness. Such was the scale of the loss that every community, every village, every street – practically every family – could name someone who was lost, or had close friends who were in mourning. Our very culture changed as a result of what our young men and women experienced, both on the front lines of battle and on the home front, where mud and fear and grief and loss blurred the lines of social distinction. It was in this crucible of destruction that the ideas of a Welfare State and a National Health Service were born.

The Church of England itself began to reassess its own function and identity as a result of chaplains returning from the front line, and many soldiers including Harry Patch – the last survivor from the Third Battle of Ypres (Passchendaele) – talked about how their experiences in the trenches had destroyed their faith in the Church. A change was needed, and the Church began to champion the causes of those left broken and bereft, resulting in reforming Bishops like Archbishop William Temple (Canterbury 1942-44) who pushed for social reform as well as religious renewal.

Today the Church holds a privileged position as one among many organisations that seek to remember those who lost their lives, those who came home broken, those who kept our industries alive at home, and those who waved good-bye to loved ones never to see them return. This month we have numerous events, exhibitions and displays to honour these people, and special services at each church on Remembrance Day itself, 11th November. Please do have a look at the events taking place in your local church, and join with us to remember the fallen.

We will remember them.

Arthur G. Sisam Pvt S/no 16791 South Wales Borderers. Died aged 28.

One hundred years ago on 2 November 1918, Arthur Sisam became the eleventh and last person from Cleeve Prior who sacrificed his life during World War 1 fighting for King and Country. Born in 1890, he was the son of Thomas and Mary Jane Sisam who lived in Cleeve Prior. Arthur enlisted in September 1914 before going out to France in September the following year.

The Evesham Journal just reported his death and gave this brief account of his service : “Going to France in 1915 he has been in all the fighting with his Battalion, never been wounded or sick but twice home on service leave. He left his Battalion on October 25th for fourteen days’ leave, was taken ill on arrival at London and died from pneumonia at the King Georges Military Hospital in London”. This was the start of the Spanish flu pandemic that swept the world from 1918 – 1920 claiming substantially more lives than were lost in the fighting of World War 1.

Arthur Sisam who died just nine days before the cessation of hostilities is buried in the Brookwood Military Cemetery near Camberley Surrey.

CLEEVE PRIOR GARDEN CLUB

Meeting

7 November 2018 @7.30pm in the Memorial Hall

Speaker, Julie Ritchie
‘Winter into Spring’

A presentation on Low Maintenance Planting was given on 3 October by Carol Smith, a garden designer. A high level of interest was created as most gardeners are looking for labour saving ideas to assist in establishing and maintaining a beautiful garden.

Carol discussed installing raised beds, and the use of membrane for weed prevention, with a topping of gravel or bark. It was also interesting to hear what a useful part the huge variety of grasses can play with all the variety and movement that they can bring to the borders, in addition to the benefit of easy maintenance. When carrying out new planting a substance called Mycorrhizal Fungi is very beneficial in establishing quicker growth in the first six months, as it helps the plant develop a secondary root system.

On 7 November Julie Ritchie from Hoo House Nursery will be giving a talk on ‘Winter into Spring’ and will be bringing a selection of plants from the Nursery.

The garden club extends a warm welcome to new members and visitors with an interest in any aspect of gardening. Visitors £4 a meeting. Any surplus plants, seedlings, etc will be gratefully received for our plant table.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOL

Well the first half of this term is almost at an end. The children are happy and have settled back into school really well. We are now looking forward to a week's holiday and then the run up to Christmas.

We held our annual Harvest Service at St Andrew's Church at the end of September with a lovely service led by Mr Wilderspin. All the generous donations of produce were then taken to 'Caring Hands In the Vale'. We then hosted a MacMillan Coffee Morning straight after the service in school raising £58.86 for such a worthy cause.

The children who left for middle school in July returned last month for a tea party with the staff and shared their experiences of their new schools. It was lovely to see what self-assured young people they have become.

As mentioned in the previous Cleeve Prior Newsletter, we are holding a Rags2Riches4Schools collection on Tuesday 27th November. Please help us to raise money for the school by having a clear out – they collect unwanted clothing, bedding & household linen, bath & hand towels, cuddly toys, shoes (in pairs & tied together), belts, hats, scarves, gloves, purses, wallets, tights, ties and handbags. You can use any household bin/garden bag and we would be delighted to receive these by 3pm on Monday 26th November.

We are still running the competition to guess the number of conkers collected from the tree to raise money for Children In Need. It is 20p for one guess and 50p for three guesses. Please feel free to pop into school if you would like to have a go. The winner will be announced on Friday 16th November.

Cleeve Prior NWR And The African Maternity Link

What an inspirational speaker! You can certainly see why Oli Jeacock won her national award for services to Midwifery. To hear a young professional speak with such passion and commitment to improving the birth outcomes for Mothers and babies in Sierra Leone, through education and training, using a lot of role play, was wonderful. Oli explained how as a small charity they worked with government officials and how they were able to focus on their aims to make a difference by taking it in small steps. Using photographs she showed us the clinic conditions and explained how few midwives there are. The charity offers training to all levels including, in one case, a cleaner on baby resuscitation. Some delivery clinics do not even have a trained midwife. There are three midwifery schools in Sierre Leone but the base level of education and in particular cognitive reasoning and problem solving is low, which is problematic. Her pragmatic attitude and realisation that these small steps do make a difference and that big change is not going to happen was admirable and educational for us. One of our members has a daughter in Malawi working for a similar charity and she was angry at the small difference they were making. However having heard what Oli had to say, she recognised the importance of getting on and doing something worthwhile even if it didn't challenge the political and economic situation. Thank you to all of you who came and donated so generously to the African Maternity Link, which is organised by six full time midwives and completely self-funded. We were able to give Oli a cheque for £206 to go towards their next visit. If anyone would like to know more, do visit their website www.theafricanmaternitylink.co.uk

Our Next Meeting: The National Telephone Quiz, on Wednesday 14 November at Evelyn Wilson's at 7.30pm. Please bring a plate of food to share – no need to eat before you come! This is a fun evening which does lead to despair and jubilation depending on which NWR group has set the questions. It's a firm favourite in our calendar. Please let Evelyn know if you are able to come or send your apologies on 772814.

Cleeve Prior NWR (National Women's Register) was founded in 1987 as a meeting point for lively-minded discussion and the odd glass of wine! If you would like to know more about the group or come along and try us out please contact me or Linda Garnett Clarke . New members are very welcome.

Cleeve Prior Heritage Trust

Stop Press: Millennium Clear Up, Sunday 4 November, 10am

Apple Pressing Day on 14 October was predictably wet and miserable, but some 20 hardy souls had an enjoyable and productive morning. We pressed over 300 litres of juice for drinking and making into cider, and it was good to see some new faces from the village. After all this sunshine the juice is absolutely delicious. We now have some 30 bottles in the freezer and a further 30 which have been pasteurised. If you would like to purchase some at £1.00 per bottle come up on a Tuesday or give me a ring.

The Community Garden makeover is already taking shape. We have a lot of slabs to lay and so we will not be hiring out for events until the work is complete, probably in the new year.

The Wild Life Sanctuary Since the pond area was cleared out in the spring the number of bird visitors has increased dramatically. The bird hide has now been relocated to take full advantage of this so it is well worth spending a quiet hour or so watching their activities.

If you go, take some food and please record what you see on the board, so that we have a better idea of what is there.

NEW PROJECTS

50 new Cider trees to plant in late November on the South side of the Community Orchard.

The Vale Market Garden Heritage Project focusing on the recording of the Horticultural Heritage of the Vale, both audio and written. Part of the project involves the refurbishment of a Grower's Hovel on our property to be used as place to display information boards and artefacts relevant to the local history. If anyone is interested in being involved with interviewing people and recording this archive, then please contact Ian Robinson on 773805.

Millennium Green Pond Cleanup. Our heartfelt thanks to the Parish Council for contributing funds. It has now become so overgrown that we need to use a mechanical digger and trailer to remove the weeds and trees. We hope to do this work this Autumn, if the weather allows.

So lots of projects to keep volunteers busy and we certainly do need them. If you have a couple of hours on a Tuesday morning please do come and help. It is not all heavy work - we have jobs for all!

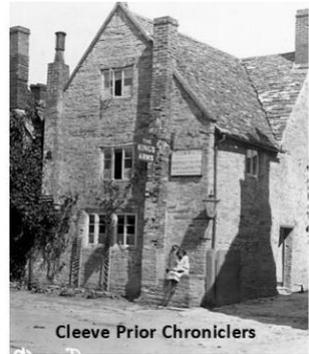

Finally a big thankyou and goodbye to Graham and Sandra George who have been stalwart volunteers at the Trust. We all wish you much happiness in your new home.

Brian Taylor

#RememberHedgehogs on Bonfire Night.

With bonfire night and Halloween fast approaching, the British Hedgehog Preservation Society (BHPS) is urging people to build bonfires on the day they are to be lit to save hedgehogs and other wildlife from appalling suffering.

This will not only save wildlife from burning to death but will also stop the bonfire from getting soaked should it rain the night before! Fay Vass, Chief Executive of BHPS, said "If material is stored on open ground in advance of having a bonfire, it's crucial to dismantle it and move it to another spot just before lighting. Ensure it's moved to clear ground – never on top of a pile of leaves as there could be a hedgehog underneath, and not too close to pampas grass which can ignite very easily and is another favourite spot for hedgehogs to hide under.”

If a large bonfire must be built in advance, protect it whilst building by putting some chicken wire, at least one-metre-high, all the way around the bottom. This should be held in place with stakes and the wire should slope outwards at an angle to make it difficult to climb, as hedgehogs are good climbers! In case you have missed anything light the fire from one side only and keep people away from the unlit side so that any hedgehogs can hopefully escape in peace.

Cleeve Prior Ramblers’ Big Adventure. On Saturday 20 October seventeen of us together with four dogs gathered on the Green with great excitement because we were going to have a steam train ride to start the ramble.

We drove to Toddington, the home of the Gloucestershire and Warwickshire Steam Railway, and boarded the train which was drawn by a rebuilt Merchant Navy Class express locomotive “P&O”. The carriages had a corridor! which resounded to the oohs and aahs of nostalgia from our group. A short trip took us to Winchcombe where we started the walk back to Toddington.

The weather was perfect, the terrain varied with plenty of sheep, splendid views and several passing trains. Coffee was taken beside Hailes Church, a beautiful little Norman church overlooking the ruins of Hailes Abbey.

Back at Toddington we lunched very well at the Pheasant Inn. The majority of the group then visited the Food Festival which Susan and Rob had kindly laid on for us, finishing off a truly unique tramble.

Thank you Susan and Rob for arranging such an interesting outing.

The next ramble will be on Saturday 17 November, led by Javier and Liz. Please let them know by 10 November if you wish to take part .

The December Newsletter

Important notice to contributors

This year there will be a combined December and January Newsletter, appearing at the beginning of December. Contributors will need to submit pieces relating to January by 23 November, along with their December items.

We hope this will not cause too much inconvenience, but the deadline for the January issue falls in the third week of December, during the build up to Christmas. We are therefore aiming to reduce the burden on the editor and contributors alike by combining the two issues. Ed.

Cleeve Prior Golf Society

Meeting at TheVale on 28 September

Our season ended very successfully when eighteen golfers enjoyed playing an individual Stableford competition for the Society championship on this well-manicured course.

The Linwood Trophy was just won by Malcolm Mawer with 36 points from Mick Hughes who scored 35 points, and Wendy Towers retained the Carruthers Cup by beating Sandra Langmead.

Captain Nick Bury presented the prizes after fifteen of us had enjoyed a two course meal when he also thanked the members for their support during his year which was also blessed with pretty good weather.

Women's Fellowship

Our October meeting was members reading a poem and there was quite a variety. Afterwards we enjoyed a chat over a cake and a cup of tea.
